

Questions and work assignments:

The assessment of the learning outcomes will be divided in two parts:

Post-module assessment:

Five written open questions about the module contents and concerning a single case study that each participant has to elaborate for the training.

1. Which strategies and methods can RYCWs use in order to promote and ensure cooperation with parents/families, with reference to your own case study?
2. List three/four questions to be addressed to the parents/families to identify the risk factors and to assess the possible involvement in the case.
3. Which are the causes of trauma in relation to your own case study? Please identify the symptoms (if any) and describe the methods to approach the crisis situation.
4. With reference to your own case study: Which external professionals could you involve to solve the situation and which tools do you use to inform them about the situation (e.g. action plan, report)? Please describe the chosen tool.
5. Can you identify any attachment disorder in the case? If yes, please describe how do you recognize the indicators and list some useful steps for an efficient action plan to deal with the problem.
